

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

25X1A

ATTACHMENT A

Chinese Communist Armored Force

Diagram of Maneuvers

Comment. The area in which these maneuvers were held covers about 25 square kilometers in a triangular area bordering Ch'anghsintien, Fengt'ai (116-17, 39-51), Lukouch'iao (116-13, 39-51) and the Marco Polo Bridge. This drawing is based on visual observation and might not be accurate to scale on a map. The distance between the bazookas and the defensive position was between one and two hundred meters. Distances between the tanks were not uniform. The positions of the air force and other units have been omitted.

SECRET